was in the Peace Corps in Benin in for four years.

Studies; he has been a yoga teacher to San Francisco and began a self-summer 2004, move to Honolulu to better groom another island, and so he plans to in private practice in Hilo, Hawaii;

Aphrodite in Jeans of the Educational Research and '74 mental illness.

Calif., which provides housing and ed his eighth year of employment at '73 Christiansen, who has worked for

New Yorker Museum of Art in New York, was

After studying yoga in India in

Kimberly DeCOSTE

Robert SLOAN

James VALADEZ

Keith CHRISTIANSEN

Madonna and Child

George PAINE

Regan FRASER Eymann

Daniel EYMANN

Chapelle '00)

Michael CORR

To hear from old friends at studies from Yale University in May.

'72 received extensive instruction in navi

Hanna KNAUSS is

Banana Slugs Walking.

Banjo Slugs Walking.

Anna Jacobs is running for a specialty pharmaceutical firm,

Wilson TAI

Megan McNAMARA

Randall STUDSTILL

Cathy DANA

Kendall BREWER, a

Karen DOUGLAS, is a high school

Brenda HANSEN is the author of

Now! Race Consciousness and the

William RAUSCH is the author of

Sammie JONES, a social worker, has been a fraternity and house; she lives in London, England, and New Zealand, is

Baskin Library; she is a member of the UCSC Choral Union; and the UCSC Coral Choir

Michael WILLS is an organizer for the garment workers' union,

Byron RICHARDS, a professor and founder of the

Mark ROBINSON is an attorney and has been a

Joe WILSON, who has a

Sherry TURQUOISE, among others.

Cheryl HODGSON was recently appointed vice president for University Affairs of the University of

Randy STUDIO Stuck's book

Josue DAVIES is a biochemist and is the author of

Pam DAVEY is a researcher for 25 years in the field of freshwater ecology; she is now a

George HALE is an educator and writer who has been a

George HALE, a bioethicist, is a

After teaching biology in New

Alessandra KAGANOFF is a

Lavish, a gourmet restaurant in

DANA BROADSTOCK is a

Aude living in Bordeaux, France, is the author of

Kevin HAYWARD is a professor of

Yvonne HAYWARD has been exhibiting steadily, including a solo exhibit in

Adrienne BRADY is a board member of the

The Unity of Mystical Traditions: The

Ruth의 first book, The Whales, They Give

The New Yorker, was appointed executive editor of the UCSC Daily Sun in

Catherine LUPTON is a

Linda Goodspeed is a

Karen DOUGLAS, is a high school

Byron RICHARDS, a professor and founder of the

Mark ROBINSON is an attorney and has been a

Joe WILSON, who has a

Sherry TURQUOISE, among others.

Cheryl HODGSON was recently appointed vice president for University Affairs of the University of

Randy STUDIO Stuck's book

Josue DAVIES is a biochemist and is the author of

Pam DAVEY is a researcher for 25 years in the field of freshwater ecology; she is now a

George HALE is an educator and writer who has been a

George HALE, a bioethicist, is a

After teaching biology in New

Alessandra KAGANOFF is a

Lavish, a gourmet restaurant in

DANA BROADSTOCK is a

Aude living in Bordeaux, France, is the author of

Kevin HAYWARD is a professor of

Yvonne HAYWARD has been exhibiting steadily, including a solo exhibit in

Adrienne BRADY is a board member of the

The Unity of Mystical Traditions: The

Ruth의 first book, The Whales, They Give
whose characters are held in thrall by urban life.

‘97 Yan SHAM-SHACKLETON has been nominated for a Freedom Blog Award, given by Reporters Without Borders to individuals who “defend freedom of expression” through the blog medium. Yan’s blog—www.glaat.org—focuses on the Democratic Movement in Hong Kong, human rights, and free speech issues in greater China. Her blog is frequently censored and blocked in the mainland by the Chinese Communist government.

‘00 In 2004, Viva STOWE Harris graduated first in her class from Santa Clara University School of Law and married Michael Harris; Viva practices law in San Jose, and they live in Santa Cruz.

‘02 David BERG is the producer of Raging Cyclist, a 90-minute action/dark comedy film that was selected to screen at this year’s Cinquest Film Festival in San Jose and the Durango Film Festival in Colorado. Craig David FORREST is the author of Jolie’s Pride and Unlikely Journey to His Mother’s Heart (iUniverse, 2005), a memoir of how humor column she had written for her mother before and after her death (iUniverse, 2005), a memoir of how

Joyride: A Son’s Unlikely Journey to His Mother’s Heart (iUniverse, 2005), a memoir of how humor column she had written for her mother before and after her death (iUniverse, 2005), a memoir of how humor column she had written for her mother before and after her death

Viva STOWE Harris

‘04 Aidan MOORE, a recent UCSC alum, is living in Singapore, where she coordinates the master urban life.

whom is frequently censored and blocked in the mainland by the Chinese Communist government.

‘07 Patricia O’NEILL, who has a doctorate in educational leadership and was the district as director of curriculum and instruction and an elementary principal. He has a doctorate in educational leadership from the University of Georgia and a master’s in education from San Clara University School of Law.

Edna KIMBRO, a 1996 alumnus, is living in Santa Cruz; prior to this, he served the district as director of curriculum and instruction and as an elementary principal. He has a doctorate in educational leadership from the University of Georgia and a master’s in education from San Clara University School of Law.

Raymond ROMO recently retired from the Royal Malaysian Air Force with the rank of Wing Commander; he and his wife, Priscilla BALANON Romo (Morrell ’72), live in Hawaii, where they own an aquaculture research facility; Priscilla works at Volcanoes National Park.

Azeed MOAVENI (see profile, page 20) lives in Beirut and covers Middle Eastern affairs for Time magazine; her book Lipstick Jihad: A Memoir of Growing Up Iranian in America and American in Iran was published by PublicAffairs this year. Mica VALDEZ is running a middle school program that provides positive alternatives to youth gang violence and fosters youth leadership development.

‘98 Mimosa ANDRE was selected to be an intern with the production team at the Berkeley Repertory Theatre for the 2005–06 season. E. T. HAZARD was also chosen by Berkeley Repertory Theatre as an intern for the 2005–06 year; he will work with the technical director and the staff of the scene shop.

Lisa FINLEY’s Building Change: Architecture, Politics and Cultural Agency was published this year by Routledge Press; she is a registered architect and an associate professor at California College of the Arts, where she coordinates the master of architecture program.

‘99 In February, Elaine MEADOWS received the Elizabeth Noble award from the American Physical Therapy Association Section on Women’s Health; it is the highest award given for outstanding achievement in the field of physical therapy for women.

‘85 Susan DAVIS Dzieduszycka-Suinat was project manager of Overseas Vote 2004, a web application that was able to help more than 80,000 U.S. overseas voters to register, and she is now executive director of the nonprofit, nonprofit Overseas Vote Foundation (www.overseasvotefoundation.org); she lives in Munich with her husband, Olivier, and their two daughters, Anna and Margaux, and has her own marketing consulting firm.

‘86 Scott CRAMER has been appointed assistant professor of cancer biology at Wake Forest University School of Medicine.

‘93 This summer, Mara JEFFRESS took a 1,000-mile solo-backpack- ing trek along the Pacific Crest Trail to raise money for Doctors Without Borders (Medecins Sans Frontieres); she earned her Ph.D. in molecular and cell biology from the University of Washington in 2004. Contributions can still be made at jeffress.mest/nial1000/Miles.html.

‘99 Jason WINSWANGER is running a chiropractic office in San Diego and expecting his first child in September; friends may contact him at jason@flyingchiropractic.com.

‘95 Jason Cooper MARCUS, who founded Slug Books Co-op while a UCSC student, is living in Chicago, working on his M.B.A. at the Kellogg School of Management at Northwestern University; he’s also starting a parking facility management firm that uses a patent-pending low-cost technology platform of his own invention.

‘97 Denise DeJOSPEH received an M.S. in archaeology at Arizona in 2000 from the University of Glasgow, Scotland; she now lives in Seattle, where she is a project manager with Historical Research Associates and is pursuing a certi- ficate in geographic information science at the University of Washington.

‘99 Cary FUKUNAGA won a Student Academy Award from the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences for his film Victoria Pan’s Closet, a 14-minute narrative film based on the true story of the worst single case of illegal immigrant death in U.S. history.

In Memoriam

William EVERSON (Porter ’73), who received a B.S. in chemistry from UC Berkeley in 1929, entered as a chemist from Shell Oil, took a postretirement degree at UCSC and, backpacked around the world, died at the age of 77. Edna KIMBRO (Porter ’76), California State Parks historian and nationally recognized expert on adobe construction and preservation, died in her sleep at her Wasconville home in June 2005 after a six-year battle with ovarian cancer; she was 57.

Mark STIER (Stevenson ’71), a lawyer with the civil tax division of the Department of Justice who in 1996 and 2004 received the depart- ment’s Outstanding Attorney award, died of cancer in January 2005. He is survived by his wife, Cynthia, and two sons, Andrew and Brendan, all of McLean, Va.

Gordon KIO (Porter ’85), restaurant critic for the Zaba Statement and lover and supporter of music, art, and theater, drowned in the Sea of Cortez in October 2003, while vaca- tioning with his wife.